In plain language

Confitech GmbH is a German provider of software engineering services with a development center in Ukraine (web development) and headquarters in Ulm (Germany).

Providing the service <Rent a Web-Developer> (international employee leasing), we employ web developers who work under the direct management of our clients in our offices in Eastern Europe as an extension of the client's in-house teams. Each programmer works full time and long term for just one client as a remote collaborator.

Since there are no upfront costs, we offer a low-risk and flexible way to scale your development. Contract is open-ended with a one day notice period during the first 30 days and a 30-day notice thereafter.

The monthly payment for developer includes a gross salary and our service flat rate.

We undertake:

- Personnel recruitment
- Workplace setup, hardware and software licenses
- Resolving all employment-related legal issues
- Secure IT infrastructure, high-speed Internet
- Conference rooms and recreation areas for developers
- Consulting and regular evaluations
- German management

configurable technologies for your request
