CONFITECH FEEDBACK

Middle/Senior level front-end developer with the main focus on Angular.

The candidate has 6 years of developing web applications using Angular, as well as knowledge of using NgRx for state management in Angular. He has a permanent residency in Germany

Strong experience with HTML, CSS, JS, TS, responsive designs, and knowledge of applying best practices and design patterns in front-end development. Understanding of Scrum and Kanban methodologies.

Kane would like to continue working in front-end development and would like to lead the team in the future.

The reasons of changing previous working places:

- Mimacom. He wants to change roles because he wants a role that is frontend focused and that is currently not the case at his current company, nor will it be for the foreseeable future.
- CtrlMovie. He left due to it not working out from both sides. There were promises made during the hiring process which were not kept. The role was also a lead role, which was not fully explained at the time, and at that point in his career, he was not ready for a lead role.
- PMC Services. The company was going through a bad time and there was a lack of projects, so Kane decided to move on.
